The years from 1885 to 1985 are now years of the past for Rock Port High School, but they are not years that are forgotten. Those years were the cornerstone years for the Rock Port school system.

Rock Port is now in the process of setting the cornerstone for another one hundred years of educational progress. New faces, new equipment, and a new elementary school are a few of the definite, near future plans. But what of those things that are on the distant horizon? We will have to grasp opportunities, give of our services, and grow with courage to realize those things that will unfold into the real future.

Hence, the Annual Staff of Rock Port High would like for you to explore this yearbook, and from the past help us to find the future.

Dedication

From its humble beginning, out of a small building located a block west of the present Methodist Church, has grown the complex of Rock Port High School. The school was founded in 1865. Although its location has changed, the institution has continued to grow in order to meet the educational needs of the community through a century of growth. But our school has been more than just textbooks and homework. To its sons and daughters it has meant football games and proms, play practice and Barnwarmings, growth and maturity, as well as serious study and graduation.

Yes, the last century holds many wonderful memories and accomplishments. But we must look to the future. It is with high expectation and profound faith that the Annual Staff dedicates the 1965-66 "Bluejay" to the next one hundred years.

The editors and assistant editors made a mad scramble to get the materials in on time.

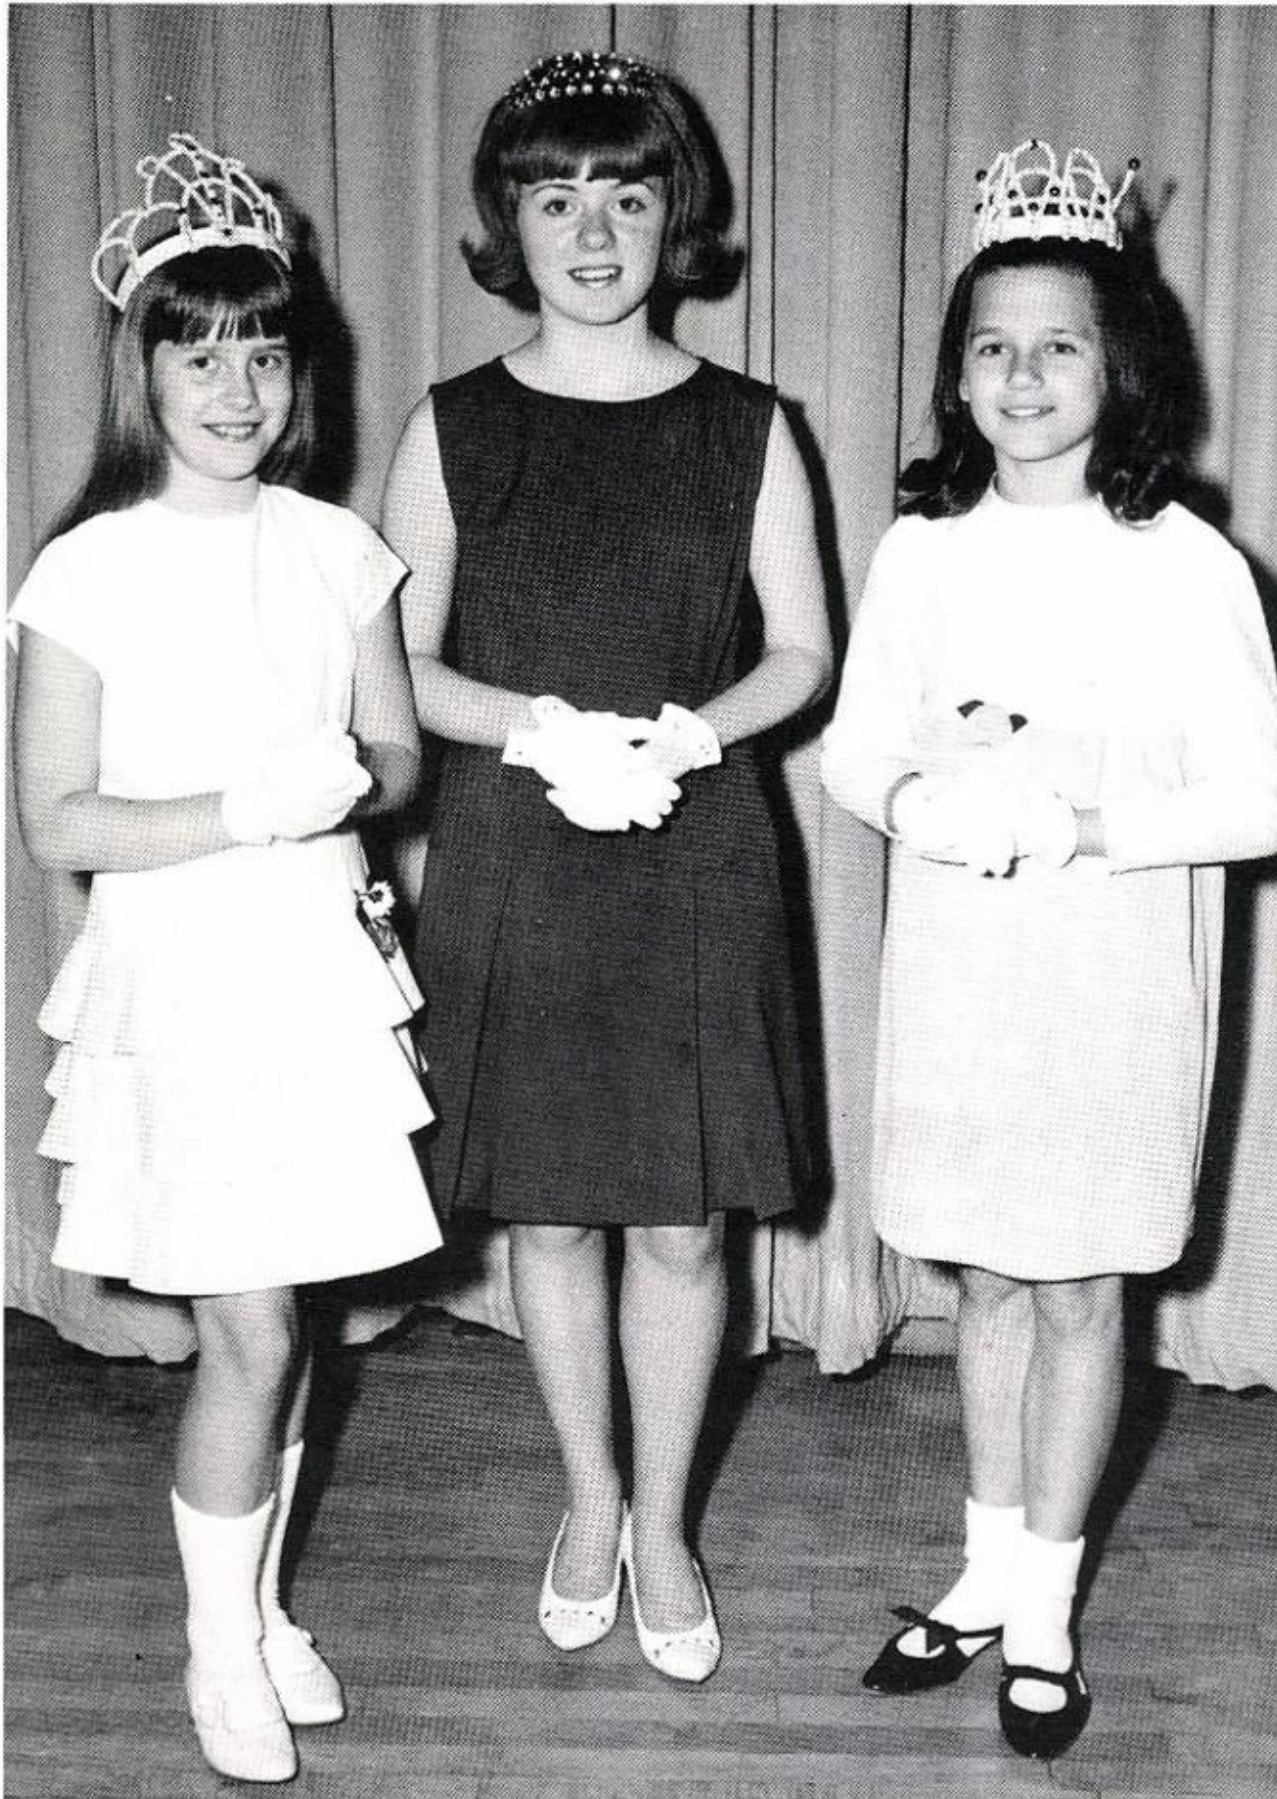

Bluejay Staff

Members of the Bluejay staff seemed to have deadlines to meet all the time. With paper assignments and layout mats to be submitted, every member had certain duties to perform. There were times that we thought that we would not make it; but we did, and we were pooped!

To complete an annual, it takes a lot of hard work and ideas. Good ideas are sometimes hard to come by.

Secretaries

Mrs. Gene Hunter

The secretaries of Rock Port RII School have many responsibilities and duties. They perform many small tasks that the ordinary secretary does not do. These secretaries spend hours relieving the burdens of their employers by taking care of correspondence, meeting minor problems, balancing the books, and keeping the system generally in order. A big thanks goes to these workers who so efficiently help the faculty and students.

The past school year has indeed been a busy one for the Junior Class. As they spent hours in the Junior Stand, they found that providing money for their "Marineland" Prom was going to be work! Of course, the prize money from their first-place Centennial float did help. They went right on to carry out their slogan, "Victory or Bust" as they cheered the Bluejay Boy's Basketball squad consisting of five starting Juniors, on to first place in the 275 Conference Basketball Tournament. The Juniors next demonstrated their dramatic ability as they presented the play, "The Case of the Missing Heirs". To top off their school year, the Juniors succeeded in providing a memorable evening for their guests at the Junior-Senior Prom.

"Oh, Barry!!!"

You call this practice?

Among other things this year, the Juniors enjoyed American History.

This year marked the first big step for freshmen on the ladder to graduation. With it, they experienced two events which they will always remember: County Government Day and Initiation. Initiation proved to be quite a day! Not one freshman will ever forget dressing as a baby and sucking a pacifier most of the day! Looking back, however, they probably really had a lot of fun. At least the party following Initiation was with Jacque Gayle Reid and Gary Grubb claiming the royalty honors. County Government Day turned out to be the highlight of the year. That week before was a mad rush to make posters and campaign buttons. However, it was all worth it for the fun it produced! Building their first float also turned out to be full of fun and surprises by capturing second place with a truly beautiful float, "Pulling for Victory". There were also classes of algebra, citizenship, English, and biology to always attend. Biology proved to be quite challenging by dissecting worms, frogs, and clams.

Busy was the word for the junior high this year. Both their football and basketball teams had highly successful seasons and their homecoming float walked away with third prize.

The seventh graders were really confused when they began the year but the seasoned eighth graders soon straightened them out. Ninth grade seems a long jump from junior high but if they progress like they have the last year--look out high school.

In past years, Mrs. Nixon's classes have learned many Spanish words, and this year is no exception. Her students learned the words from their study of Mexico and Central and South America. They, as did Mrs. Peters' sixth grade, also studied Canada, on which they saw a series of films from the Canadian government. Mrs. Nixon made a reading project of Canada whereby each pupil read and reported on some feature, such as history or customs. Good use was made of the overhead projector which made learning different and easier for the students. Much emphasis was also placed on the study of modern math and sources of power. Mrs. Nixon's class is proud of its bulletin boards, too, and pictures of these bulletin boards were included in an issue of the paper.

Mrs. Peters' class, of course, studied the same things as did Mrs. Nixon's, though they did not always do the same projects. While studying Mexico, each student made a design of the sun. They were made of a variety of materials, such as burlap, yarn, seeds, paper, sequins, and a flour and salt mixture. The designs were on display in the class room and for awhile in one of the store windows down town. Mrs. Peters' room was also one of the rooms in which an educational television was installed.

Mrs. Howell

The usual fourth grade courses, such as Missouri's history, space, and various types of rocks were studied by Mrs. Howell's class this year. They also studied the regions of the United States and had art work monthly and with each unit. Watching the growth of guppies was one of the extra features they enjoyed.

Homes, health, transportation, and weather were some of the main studies of this class. They visited several houses being built when they were studying homes. They also toured a clothing store when they were on the clothing unit. An item of particular interest about this class is that they had two teachers, Mrs. Corken the first semester and Miss Godsey the second semester.

Mrs. Prather

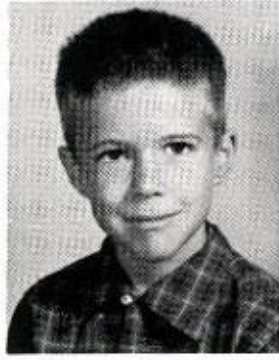

Mrs. Prather's students, of course, studied many of the things that Miss Godsey's did, such as health, transportation, and weather. As experiments with weather, they made small amounts of rain and frost. They, too, visited the homes under construction for added interest to their studies. The pupils also had a small bulletin board on which three worked every month, each getting to help at least once during the year. As each class did, Mrs. Prather's students also did other art work, usually having to do with their lessons or special holidays. When they studied the unit on health, they had particular fun with foods---they got to make and taste many different foods. That certainly added interest to the school routine.

Mrs. LaHue

Among the things Mrs. LaHue's class enjoyed doing were studying transportation and writing stories about it, learning to tell time, and keeping a daily calendar. They also studied health and proper foods by keeping a chart for three days. They had art work every week which usually pertained to the seasons. Writing riddles was also fun and they came up with some real wild ones!

Some of the studies of this class were writing, telling time, and arithmetic. After the televisions were purchased, the students watched a literature program once a week. They took several small trips--one on a school bus to learn bus safety, one to the library, and another to the post office. One of their favorite studies was that of the circus. They even made a miniature circus for their room.

Miss Proudfit

Miss Proudfit is popularly known by everyone as Miss Anna. Along with the beginning first-grade subjects--reading, writing, and arithmetic--her class studied the Pilgrims, Indians, and various kinds of stores. The pupils enjoyed using the SRA Reading Laboratory and read many outside-reading books. They also studied the proper care of teeth and the way plants grow. For each student it was a year of new experiences and fun.

Mrs. Tiemeyer

Mrs. Tiemeyer's first graders enjoyed learning all about soil, how it is formed and how it is changed. They learned about pints and quarts and other units of measure. Word games from the SRA Reading Lab and the flannel board gave added fun to their studies. When they were studying about stores, they and Miss Anna's class visited the Bank of Atchison County. They, too, found their first year a new and exciting experience.

Under the guidance of the coaching staff, the Bluejays completed a successful season, losing only 2 out of a 10-game schedule. Both games were lost to undefeated teams--Tarkio and Hamburg. The success of the squad can be accredited to good spirit and individual determination. Several of the Jays received Conference, District, and State honors. Those receiving honors were: T. George Carpenter was chosen to be drum major for the 1965-1966 school year. Majorettes selected were Kathleen Miller, Sherry Alloway, and Debbie Gildersleeve. These people were chosen by Mr. Roger Buhr, music instructor, on the basis of leadership, marching ability, and showmanship.

They practiced hard and their gallant efforts paid off well at public performances. They added much to the Football Homecoming Centennial celebration, and also at regular home football game performances.

Jr. High Band is a very essential part of every young musician's world. It is here that a young person starts developing his own talent with an instrument of his choice. At first, the results sound a little drastic, but in the years to come, all that hard practicing turns into some fine music.

The R Club is one of the various organizations here at R. P. H. S. The main purpose of it is to advance the cause of athletics and to try to solve some of their problems. It is made up of lettermen from any desired sport such as football, basketball, or track. The student manager may also become a member after holding that position for two years. However, lettermen are only ELIGIBLE for consideration of membership. Even though they have lettered, they may be vetoed out by the members of R Club. This, however, rarely happens. In order to become a member, every athlete must go through R Club Initiation. Like every initiation, it is very exaggerated in its meanness! Actually, most members probably look back on it as an important part of R Club.

'Twas the Night before Christmas

This year the Christmas Ball was enjoyed by everyone as they danced to the music of the Maryville High School Dance Band.

The elaborate Christmas decorations were furnished by the Alpha Chi and the Student Council. The center of attraction was a huge decorated Christmas tree.

At intermission we were delighted by the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus portrayed by Tom Hopkins and Mary Jane Christen. Mr. Petry, James Allen, Mr. Dalrymple, and George Carpenter sang "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," and the sophomore class produced a skit entitled "Willie and Annie's Prayer."

To complete the evening Wanda Lawless and Steve Bell were crowned Princess and Prince.

No matter what shape YOUR stomach's in.

I could have danced all night; if Mr. Petry hadn't been stepping on my feet!

Now what kinda deal is this???

Excuse me!!!

And the band played on and on and on and on and--

Senior Class Day

Jim Allen and Richard Tiemeyer wrote and also read the class will.

Steve VanMeter and Eva Jo Mulvania presented the class history.

For entertainment, Janet Grable played a flute solo.

The seniors sang "Halls of Rock Port" under the direction of Mr. Roger Buhr.

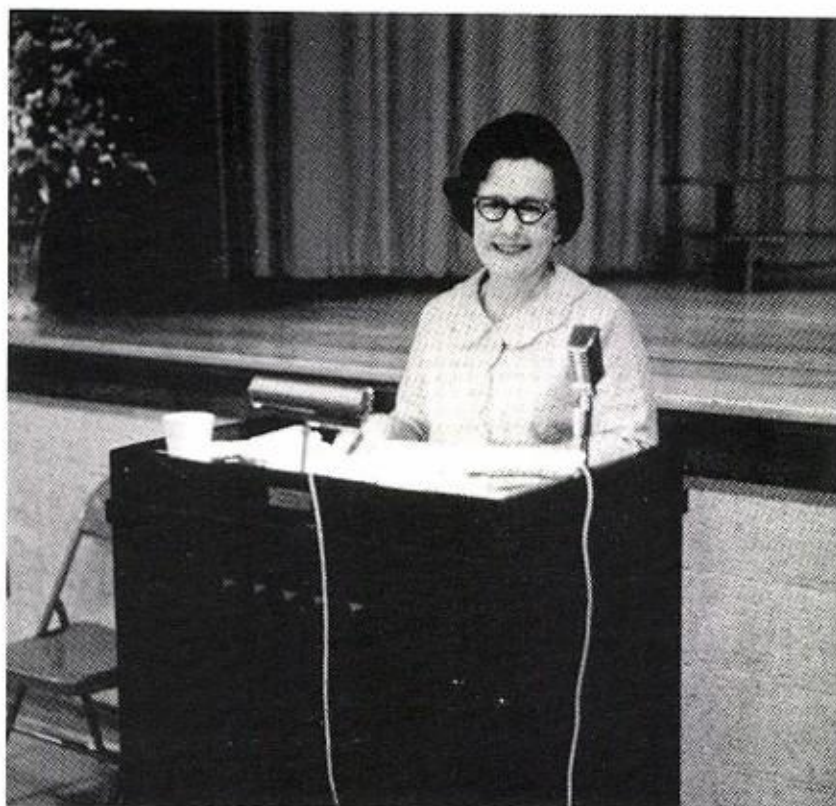

Popular songs were presented by Paul Fuelling, Mary Christen, Peggy Gallup, and Jim Allen.

The class prophecy was read by Wanda Lawless and Lois Noellsch.

Baccalaureate

Left to Right: Mr. Don Petry, Rev. Jerry Ostram, Rev. Neil Dubach, Mr. Walter Mulvania, and Mr. E.R. Dalrymple.

Paul Fuelling, accompanied by Bonnie Duhon, presented a vocal solo.

Eva Jo Mulvania and Lois Noellsch played a piano duet. Also pictured is Peggy Meyerkorth, who played the processional and the recessional for the seniors.

Commencement

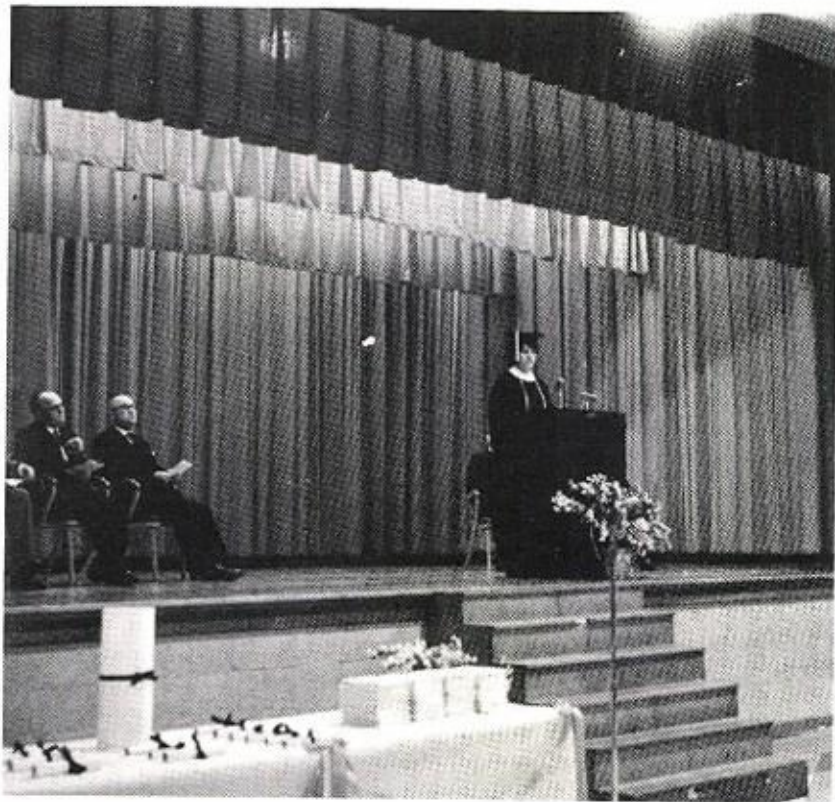

Lois Noellsch is shown here giving her Valedictory address.

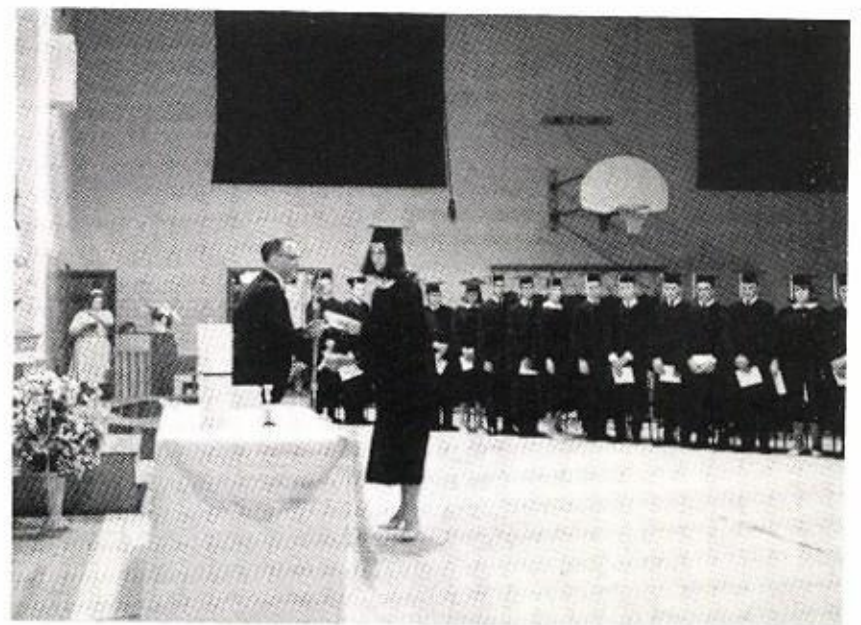

Mr. Everett Brown of Northwest Missouri State College was the Commencement speaker.

Directed by Mr. Buhr, the Seniors sang, "The Halls of Rock Port".

The diplomas were presented by Mr. Walter Mulvania, President of the School Board.

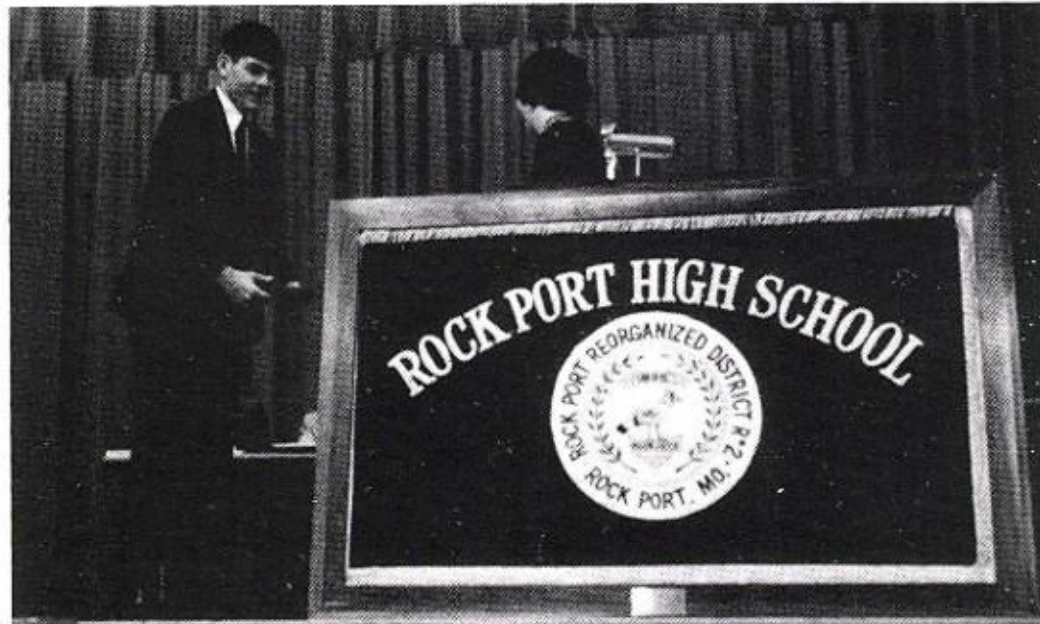

Awards Assembly

Lois Noellsch and Richard Tiemeyer received the Danforth Foundation Award.

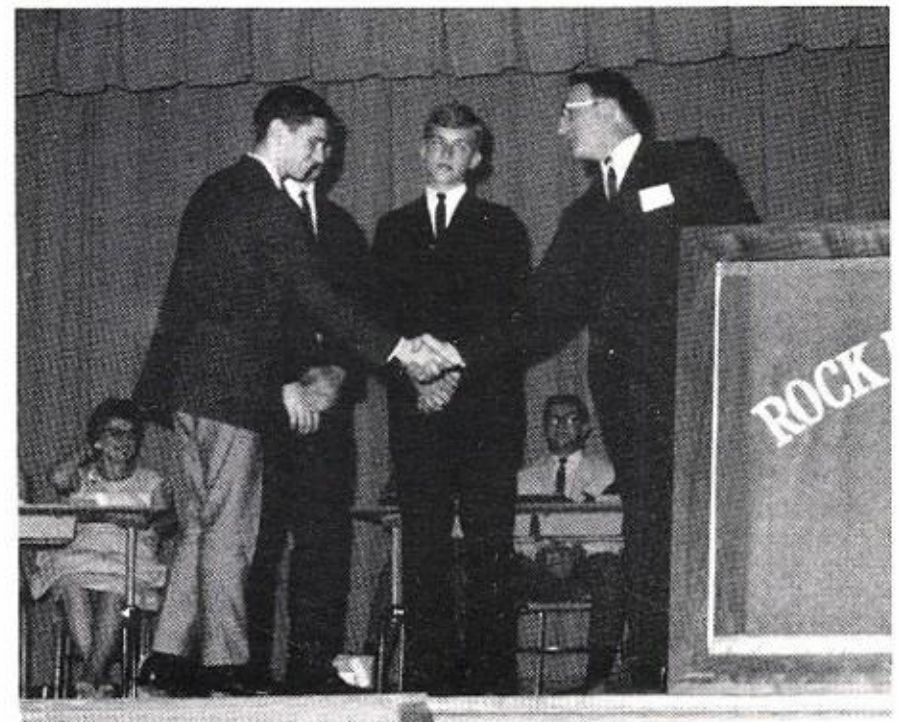

Lois Noellsch and Peggy Brooks received the American Legion Citizenship Award.

Randy Reid was recognized as the Sophomore Pilgrim.

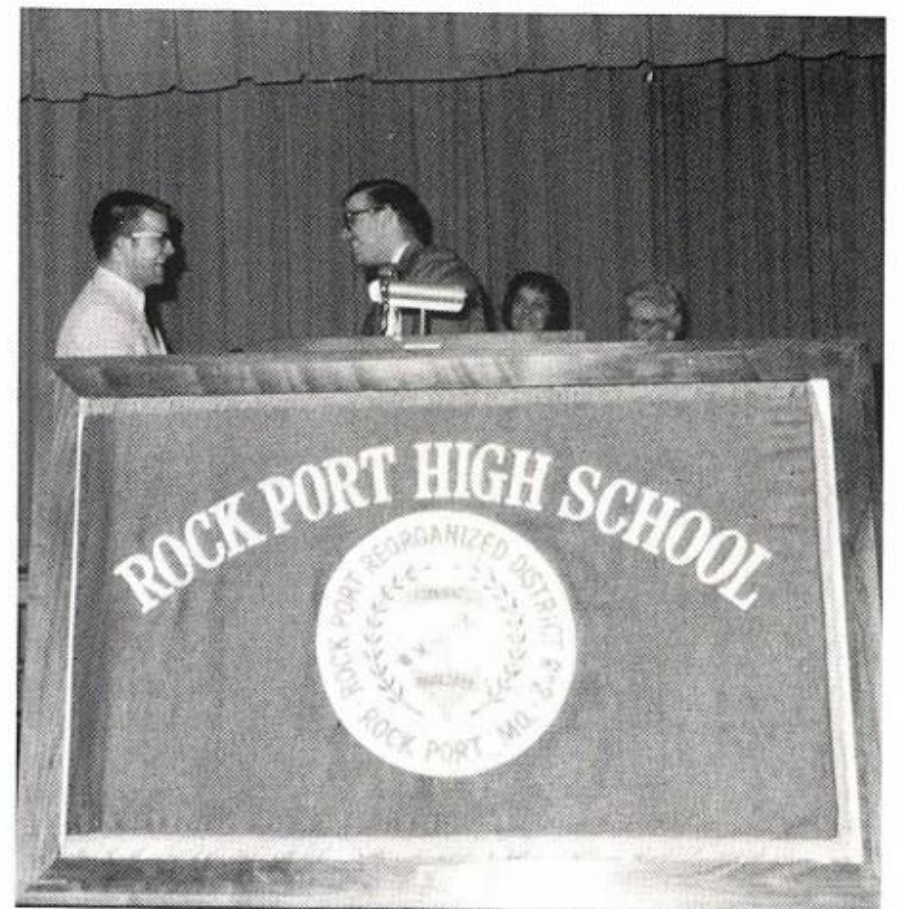

Mr. Petry specially recognized Walt Millsaps with a trophy for his service as custodian.

Gerry Heckel, John Eilers, and Gary Gebhards were congratulated by Bob Fay on being chosen as Boys' State representatives.

Mr. Buhr presented Eva Jo Mulvania with the outstanding musician award for the year.

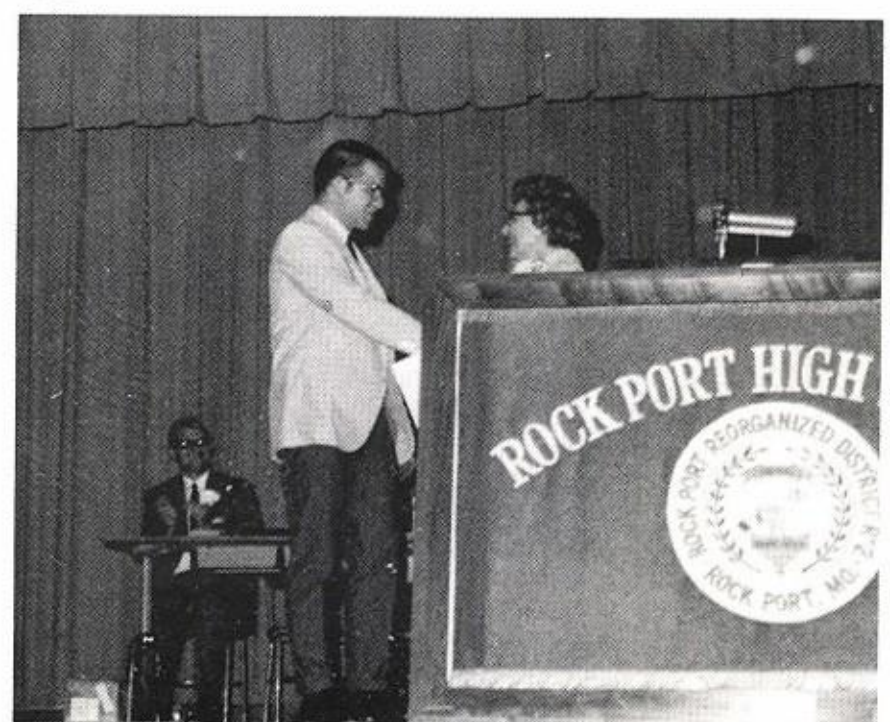

Mr. Petry recognized Richard Tiemeyer as Student Body President and the fine job he did.

Miss McClurg presented Peg Brooks, Wanda Lawless, and Bonnie Duhon with speed awards in shorthand.

Don Reynolds and Terry Thiesfeld were presented with Read Magazine awards by Mrs. Taylor.

Mrs. Shaw presented Richard Tiemeyer with the outstanding School Citizen award.
